

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

INTRODUCTION.

The first mention of any Registers for the Parish of St. Dunstan, Canterbury, occurs in the Churchwardens' Accounts under the year 1546 (37 Henry VIII). In the "payments made" by the Churchwardens is the following: "Item payd for a key for the place where the book lyeth for Crystnyng wedyng and beryng, iiijd;" and in the "passelis layed out" in the same year there is a charge "for a new boke for crystnyng and buryyng, viijd."* When this volume disappeared is unknown. It may have continued in use until Elizabeth ascended the throne, when, a new order of things coming in, a new Parish Register was obtained, and the second of the St. Dunstan's Registers (the first of the existing series) was begun in the year 1559, the earliest entry being the burial of Joan Attwood, made on the 9th October in that year. This continued in use until 1598, when, by an order of Convocation, its contents were copied into the present parchment book, after which the original paper book disappeared.

The Volume here presented to the reader contains all the entries of Baptisms, Marriages and Burials from the 9th of October, 1559, to the end of the year 1800. I have used six "Register Books," and although in the footnotes I have made some mention of these separately, it will be necessary to give some further particulars here.

No. 1.—This is of parchment; the leaves are eleven inches wide by twelve inches long. It was re-bound some years ago, fortunately without any cutting of the edges, so that practically what remains of it is as it was when the entries were made. Unfortunately, before it was put into the present covers it probably lay in the chest without any covers at all, the result being that all the baptismal entries made before "the xxijth of Auguste," 1574, are missing. As might have been expected, the volume suffered at the end also, more indeed than at the beginning, the last entry bearing date April 27, 1622, while the first burial registered in the second volume took place on December 5th, 1651. The extreme usefulness of the transcripts of parish registers presented to the Archdeacon is well illustrated in a case of this kind; for had there been no transcripts in existence the first thirteen years of baptisms, and the burials from April, 1622, to September, 1641, would have been irrecoverably lost. As it is, I have to deplore the loss of all the burial entries between August, 1641, and December 5, 1651, because during the unsettled years of the Civil War which preceded the Commonwealth, no transcripts were made, or if they were made, none were presented; and while the Commonwealth lasted all "Archidiaconal functions" were suspended. It is satisfactory to know that in this diocese, at all events, the greatest care is taken of these transcripts. And here I should fail in my duty were I not to gratefully acknowledge the unfailing kindness and courtesy of the Bishop of Dover, Archdeacon of Canterbury, in allowing me to have free access to all his records. A reference to these records has enabled me to verify many a doubtful reading, and to rescue many a name from oblivion.

* See my "Accounts of the Churchwardens of St. Dunstan's, 1484-1580," Archæologia Cantiana, Vols. xvii., xviii.

Towards the end of this volume there are several memoranda entered which may, perhaps, more fitly be inserted here than at the end of this Introduction, where I at first intended to place them. (See notes, pp. 119, 120). The following "Note" and the Memorandum which succeeds it occur between the burial entries dated Sept. 22 and Oct. 10, 1617 :

† The memo. which follows is illegible.

Between the burial entries of Feb. 9, 1620, and June 10, 1621, a part of the will of John Herring of Deal is inserted. The will is dated May 18, 1592. The testator bequeaths his soul into the merciful hands of God his Creator with a full and certain hope of resurrection in the day of judgment. He gives to his wife, Elizabeth Heringe, all his movable goods, and four pounds four shillings, which John Pope of Deal owes him, towards the bringing up of his children. To his eldest son, Stephen, on his arriving at the age of nineteen years, he gives the house he now dwells in with six acres and half a rood of arable land, whereof five acres and a half lie adjoining the said house in a shot called Smoke and Drawe Smoke, and half an acre and half a rood in the West feilde in a shot called Westowne; he also gives to his eldest son an acre and a half of marsh land lying in a marsh called Stokes Tye. To his youngest son, Thomas, he gives his house "at Sholdon Church gate," with $2\frac{1}{2}$ acres and twelve feet of land, then in the occupation of Thomas Pittocke. To this son Thomas he also gives two acres in Didham, and one acre, three roods, lying at South Wall, in a marsh called Edolls Marsh. The house in which Thomas Dubletts was then living with the land annexed thereto, and two acres of land in Eastland, were to be sold and the money to be equally divided between the testator's three daughters, Constance, Dennis, and Elizabeth, when they reached eighteen years of age. The witnesses to the will were Richard Bowle, William Roberts, and Stephen Rickman, the last-named, who belonged to Sholden, was "to be my overseer to this my will," while his wife was "executor." There is not a reference of any kind whatever to St. Dunstan's in the whole of the will.

The portion of John Herring's will is immediately followed by the following declaration:—

We the minister and churchwardens of the parish of St Dunstanes do certifie by these presents that we do not knowe of any within our said parish y^t do refuse to come to the churche. But that all things are done according to the lawes of the realme and religion now established. Given under our handes the day of Jan. 1599.

The next Memorandum seems to say the two Sidesmen of St. Dunstan's are usually chosen at Easter by the Minister and parishioners before the preferring of our bill of presentments. "Mr. Lilius" is written below. Then comes, "The office rekeneth from Michaelmas to Michaelmas"—"Mr. Su'ner." And then, "Our ladye Day: to our Lady Day," after which the burial entries proceed.

In one respect the first volume of these registers fared better than the second; for, as a rule, the entries were made by the vicars themselves, and they were good penmen, except John Kington, who was a poor writer and a careless registrar. A few more years, and many of the entries in this book will have disappeared, as the ink is fast fading.

No. 2.—This volume is also of parchment, and is in the original parchment covers. It is $8\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide by $15\frac{1}{2}$ inches long, and contains fifty-five leaves, two of which are altogether blank. The first entry is the baptism of Richard Fewes on the 27th Feb., 1661; and the last records the burial of Susan Coffee, July 22, 1743. Between the first and the last pages, which are very good specimens of handwriting, there is some which is, to say the least, extraordinary; but I have seen worse attempts at writing and spelling than anything which is here. In preparing "Our Parish Books, and What they Tell Us" for the press, I met with entries which occupied me for weeks, while here it has only been a question of days. Vicars were careless or non-resident, and clerks were often unlearned; and between them the registers fared very badly indeed. What may have been omitted I am afraid to contemplate.

This volume only contains two very brief memoranda, and they are both written in the margin of the first page. The first is, "The Archdeacons Office from Michaelmas to Michaelmas the other from our Lady Day to our Lady Day." The second is, "The palm tree that Stans By the East gate of the Church yard was planted in the year of our Lord 1710 Regestared By James Ellis Clark of this parsh." This palm tree was the cause of a curious entry in the Churchwardens' Accounts, a copy of which, taken from a loose leaf, I give below :

MEMORANDVM.

That in the Moneth of Janvry 1709 was a Palm tree Given by Tho. Yovng of the within mentioned Parish of St. Donston to Drayton Roberts Gen^t and James Cooke Ch. wardens that same Year who ordered the same Immeadiately to be planted by Will Emblin gardner of the said parish which standeth on the brow in the sd Chvrchyard near the Coming in of the gate by the Vickeredg Land and for the Improvement of its growth aiournd to the pvblick and moistned it to the Root as Yov may find in paige the 41 what the Charge was.

JAMES COOKE.

Ten years before this the churchwardens of the adjoining parish of Holy Cross paid eighteen pence "for a palm tree for to sett in the churchyard."* What tree are we to understand by the palm tree? The answer must, I think, depend upon the locality in which the word is used. For want of the true palm, probably the box, as well as the yew and willow, was blessed for Palm Sunday. In an old sermon for "Dominica in Ramis Palmarum," the preacher says, "Because we have no olive that beareth green leaves we take instead of it yew or palms with, and bear about in procession, and so this day we call Palm Sunday." Here with means withy or willow. Writing in 1647, Henry Peacham says, "These men Homer, most aptly, compareth unto the willow tree, which he calleth by a most significant epithet olesikarpos, in Latin frugiperda, or 'loose fruit'; because the palms of the willow tree are no sooner ripe, but are blown away with the wind." In the churchwardens' accounts of Woodbury, Devonshire, there is an entry recording the planting of a yew or palm in the churchyard.† In Northamptonshire, as a boy I used to gather the catkins of the yellow sallow, and call them palms, and cannot remember ever hearing the word associated with the yew. But in Kent it is so associated. At Woodnesborough there is a public-house which bears for its sign a clipped yew, and it is called "The Palm Tree." On approaching Eastry by the Sandwich Road, the first object which meets the view is an ancient yew tree, which, in the neighbourhood, is called the palm tree.‡ Opposite the south porch of Eastry church there is another yew tree which, amongst the old inhabitants, goes by the name of the palm tree.§ Like the box, the yew, and the cedar, the true palm is evergreen, and they all have become emblems of immortality, and fit ornaments of a churchyard; and the other palm, the willow, might also be fitly planted there, not only as an emblem of man's frailty, but also because the branches were useful to bear in procession on Palm Sunday. There is still a yew tree in St. Dunstan's churchyard, but it is not the one planted by Will Emblin, as that was nearer to the street than that which is now dying on the south side of the church. The yew now standing near the centre of Holy Cross churchyard may be the palm tree which was planted there in 1699 or 1700. It is seven feet four inches in girth at three feet from the ground.

No. 3.—This book is $6\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide by 16 inches high. It contains forty-six leaves of parchment, and three leaves of paper at each end; fifty-two leaves in all. It has parchment covers fastened with two brass clasps. The whole of the entries contained in this book are found in Nos. 2 and 4. The last baptismal entry in No. 2 is dated July 24, 1743; the first in No. 3, written on the back of the third paper leaf, is dated June 29, 1740, from which date the entries run on to Oct. 4, 1772, when they suddenly cease, having filled eleven pages. Then follow twenty-five blank pages. The next page is headed "A Continuation of the Register of Burials in the Parish of St. Dunstan next Canterbury from 22 July, 1743," which is the date of the last burial entry in No. 2. The burials continued to be entered in this book until February 12, 1773. Thirteen pages are full, and there are seven entries on the fourteenth. The remainder of the fourteenth page and the whole of the next sixteen pages are blank. Then there is "A continuation of the Register of Marriages in the Parish of St. Dunstan next Canterbury from 23 Aug. 1743," also the date of the last marriage entry in No. 2. In No. 3 the marriages are only continued to Feb. 16, 1754, when the "Register-Book for Marriages, published according to Act of Parliament," came into use. Up to this date the marriages are also entered in No. 4.

The only use I have made of No. 3 is to compare the entries contained in it with those in No. 4, and to note such differences, generally slight, as seemed needful. The volume does not contain a memorandum of any kind.

No. 4 is a thick paper volume with parchment covers. It is $9\frac{1}{2}$ inches wide by $14\frac{1}{2}$ inches high. The baptismal entries commence on the back of the second leaf, the first bearing date Decr. 4, 1743. They are continued on both sides of the leaves to the bottom of page 19 (back), and thence on the first page of each leaf to within four lines of the bottom of page 58, the last entry running thus:

Marsh Henry, Son of John & Ann privly bap^d Dec^r 31st [1812] Rec^d Feb^r 28, 1813.

Below this entry is the signature of J. B. Bunce, Vicar. The next thirty-five leaves are all blank. On the thirty-sixth leaf commences "An Index of Baptisms in the Parish of St. Dunstan from Decr. 4, 1743. This Index extends over nine leaves, all of which are more or less full, but the ninth leaf only contains eight names, the last being "Wood, Sarah." Each page is divided into three columns, and the Index is complete down to the last baptism recorded in this book.

Turning the volume round, and beginning at the other end, I find four memoranda (which are given below) on the first page. On the second an Index of burials from 1743 is commenced, and extends over seventeen pages, the last entry being "Young Mary." This Index also is continued to the last burial entered in this volume. The eighteenth page contains the title: "A Register of Baptisms, Marriages and Burials in the Parish of St. Dunstan next Canterbury from 6 Oct. 1743." The Marriage entries, which begin with that of Henry Dessen and Mary Archer, Oct. 31, 1743, only fill three pages, each of which is numbered and signed by I. Johnson, Vicar. There is no Index to the Marriages. On the next page (4) the Burial entries commence, and are continued in double columns on both sides of the leaves to the bottom of page 14. From the top of page 15 to the bottom of page 48, the entries are made in single columns and on the first side of the leaves only. The last entry is Keys, James [Aged] 76, Dec^r 25th [1812].

Below this is the signature of "J. B. Bunce, Vicar." The next fifty-three pages are quite blank.

On the inside of the first cover are the following memoranda :

(a) "Mem:^{don}—On Sunday, Jan^y 12th 1800, in the time of divine Service, Henry Ovenden was declared Parish-Clerk in the Room of Dryason Rew deceas'd by me, Joshua Dix Minister of St. Dunstans." This Henry Ovenden held the office until his death in 1833, when he was succeeded by his son Henry Ovenden, who was born May 9th, 1806, baptised June 1st in the same year, and died in June, 1886; father and son having together held the honourable office for a little over eighty-six years.

(b) March 10th, 1801. In taking an Acc^t this Year of the Population of Great Britain according to Act of Parliament, it was found that there were in this Parish 132 Houses inhabited by 159 Families. Of Males 334—of Females 373—In all—707." In 1881 there were 394 houses in the parish, inhabited by 390 families or separate occupiers; while the population consisted of 772 males and 947 females; In all, 1719 souls.

(c) "The Return of Baptisms from 1700, every tenth year to 1780, was 63 Males, 58 Females; of Burials D^o Males, 98, Females, 82. From 1781 to 1800 inclusive—Every Year—the Return was, viz.: Males, 183, Females, 172: Burials D^o Males, 214, Females, 184. The Return of Marriages from the Year 1754 to 1800 inclusive was 262. .J. Dix, Minister." On this I have to remark that from the beginning of 1754 to the end of the year 1800, the number of Marriages was 263. The Minister's mistake arose from his not observing that the first marriage in 1754 was registered in the old books (Nos. 3 and 4): he only counted those entered in the Act of Parliament Registers. His other figures I have not thought it necessary to verify.

The inside of the other cover is occupied by "A plan of the land in the parish of Eastry, purchased by the Governors of Q. Anne's bounty for the augmentation of the vicarage of St. Dunstan, Sept. 23rd 1803, and let to Mr. Morrice Upton of Eastry at £3 per Acre." The names of the owners and occupiers of the adjoining lands are all given. They are Mr. Sladden, Mr. Edwd. George, Mr. John Castle, St. Bartholomew's Hospital, owner, (Joseph Childs, occupier), Lady Hales, owner, (J. Culmer, occupier); while one piece of arable land "Mr. Upton," we are told, "has agreed to purchase of Mr. White in his own occ'on (? occupation)." Lady Hales owns two pieces, Mr. Sladden two, and possibly Edward George owned two, for his name occurs twice. Across the centre of the plan is written "Containing in the whole 9^a 2^r 33^p part of certain Lands called Cokesborough and Lowborough."

On the first page (from this end) are the following entries :

- (i) The Revd. Mr. Isaac Johnson Vicar died March 13, 1767.
- (ii) The Revd. Mr. John Loftie inducted June 27, 1767.
- (iii) Drayson Rew declared Clark June 28, 1767.
- (iv) The Revd. John Bowes Bunce was inducted May 16, 1801.

John Loftie was the last person buried in St. Dunstan's in the year 1800. His burial is the last entry in the century, and with his name the portion of these Parish Registers now given to the public ends. By a curious coincidence Drayson Rew was the last person buried in the parish in 1799, and his name and the Vicar's stand side by side on p. 160. John Bowes Bunce died in 1850, aged 75 years. He was a man of antiquarian tastes, and contributed some papers relating to his parish to the Gentleman's Magazine; the most important will be found in the Number for December, 1837. He signed these papers "V. S. D."—Vicar (of) St. Dunstan's.

Nos. 5 and 6.—These two volumes are sufficiently described in a note on p. 99, and the note on p. 104. But it will be well to mention that the second portion of each of these books is filled with Banns of Marriage. From these Banns and from the entries of Marriages from 1754 to 1800 I have extracted the following list of officiating Ministers, not being Vicars or Curates of the parish. Only the date of the first appearance of the name is given, and the description, where there is one :

* Historian.

† Francis William Durand, after being Minister of the French Church, in the Crypt of the Cathedral, for forty years, was buried in Holy Cross Church, Sept. 20, 1789, aged 74 years.

‡ Minor Canon of Canterbury. Died in 1770, aged 80, and was buried in the Cloisters.

§ This list was prepared mainly from the Lambeth Registers. Since it was published in Archæologia Cantiana, vol. xvii, a careful examination of the Parish Registers and the transcripts has led me to make a few corrections. Thomas Panton signed the transcripts as Vicar in 1560, and his name therefore is placed between the names of Henry Wayman and Richd. Wykes. Paul Knell certainly preceded Robert Boys. James Penny was buried Jan. 23, 1663-4, and Paul Knell was buried Aug. 24 following. Robert Boys signed the transcripts in Sept. 1664, and again in Sept. 1665, about which time he disappears.

A delightful unconsciousness distinguished many of the old registrars. With a blank page before them they wrote down whatever came into their minds, utterly unmindful that what they wrote would be seen by other eyes than their own. In these registers there is nothing worse than "a Jayl bird" (p. 118, note) and "an ancient hussey" (page 136); but elsewhere we have glimpses of clerical humour, or spite, or mere love of innocent gossip. For example: A. B., gent., and C. D., "a dapper Spinster, by Licence, to be sure," occurs in the transcripts of the Seasalter registers. The next (spiteful) example is from the register of Acton, Middlesex: "Thursday the 5th of Aprill 1655. Richard Meredith esquire eldest son of S^r William Meredith of Leedes in the County of Kent Baronet was marryed unto M^{rs} Susanna Skippen youngest daughter to right honourable Major General Skippen [Traytor] by S^r John Thoroughgood [Knave] in the publick congregation within the Parish Church at Acton in the County of Middlesex Mr.

* Hary Fyshe, Hary Fysher, Hary Fishear, for he signed his name in all three ways, entered the Churchwardens' Accounts for the years 1579-80, on the 17th Sept. 1582, adding that he knew "of non acompt of these things."

† Simon Lowth seems to have been non-resident during the whole time he was Vicar. The churchwardens' presentments during his time are very pitiful reading. Thus, in 1666 and 1667, "We have no minister." 1673, "The other churchwarden is dead, and wee haue not settled Minister." 1674, "Wee haue not settled curate there." Simon Lowth became Rector of St. Mildred's, Canterbury, in 1666, and in the same year he was presented to the living of Holy Cross, also in Canterbury. In 1670 he was made Rector of Harbledown, and in 1679 he vacated Holy Cross and accepted the living of SS. Cosmus and Damian in the Blean, having, apparently, resigned the Rectory of St. Mildred's in 1672. In 1688 James the Second nominated him to the deanery of Rochester, but the flight of James and the accession of William to the throne prevented his being installed. So long as the deanery remained vacant, Dr. Lowth prayed publicly every Sunday for the king and queen, expressly naming William and Mary; but as soon as the deanery was bestowed elsewhere, he ceased to pray for them, and, refusing to take the oath of allegiance, he was deprived of his livings in the Blean and at Harbledown. St. Dunstan's living seems to have been sequestrated in 1687 (see p. 90.)

‡ "Formerly parson or Rector of Kirkaldie in Scotland. Though I prayed," he says, "for William and Mary, as king and queen, on the very day prescribed to all ministers. . . . it was notorious that I was persecuted on account of the divine right and apostolical discipline of episcopacy, [and] the provincial synod of Fife, and a conventicle of preachers, and lay elders, deprived me, and gave that desirable church of mine to that fanatic pastor, Robert Rule." On his arrival at Blean, Williamson, according to his own account, gave Dr. Lowth some very good advice, and was disposed to behave in a friendly manner towards him; but all Dr. Lowth could be induced to ask of the new vicar was permission to remain in the house until Easter, and his signature to certain accounts relating to tithes, &c. James Williamson gave the required permission, and signed the documents; with what result may be gathered from the following words: "Nor have I ever received a farthing from Dr. Lowth for those fifteen pounds, or for the tenths, procurations, or dilapidations; which is very hard." This statement was attested by Mr. Williamson "on the word of a priest." (See Bibliotheca Topog. Brit. xxx, pp. 346-350.)

§ Appointed to a Canonry in Canterbury Cathedral in 1882.

Philip Nye at the same time praying, and Teaching, upon that occasion." The words "Traytor" and "Knave," which I have placed in brackets, were inserted by Dr. Bruno Ryves, who came in as Rector after the Commonwealth. As an illustration of the gossip, useful as well as interesting, I extract the following from the transcripts of St. Mary's, Dover:—July 24, 1718 "Susanna, daughter of Francis and Margaret Hamilton: this poor woman's maiden name is Margaret Brown: her Child-birth pains fell upon her at the half-way house betwixt this and Canterburie, and she brought her Child here to my house and I Christn'd it: She herself [and] her ancient father and mother are going to Francis Hamilton in New England, where they say he is setl'd in a plantation left him by his deceas'd brother who liv'd there." When Acts of Parliament began to regulate the form in which entries should be made in the registers, an end was put to all irregular remarks: from being a free agent the registrar was reduced to something very little better than a copying machine, whose duty is to fill in the squares of his chess-board-like books "according to the prescribed form." If one more square had been added for Notes, our descendants might have been the gainers thereby.

In the St. Dunstan's books there are no political allusions; and only one or two to differences of religious opinion, and these refer to the Anabaptists, who, in 1658, had their place of worship in the refectory of the Black Friars. In 1660 the first child was baptised in the font after it had been "Anabaptistically abused;" and in 1701, Mary Hales was buried at the expense of the Anabaptist congregation. In 1645 there are slight references to the "Ordinance" passed by the Long Parliament on the 3rd January, 1644-5. In the entries of Marriages (See 1645) the words "novo modo," "n. modo," or "no. modo" occur, denoting that these marriages had been "solemnized by a lawful Minister of the Word," in accordance with the Directory, instead of the Book of Common Prayer. The new mode was this: After prayer and exhortation, the couple to be married took right hands before the congregation assembled in the place appointed by Authority for public worship, and the man declared that he took the woman to be his married wife. Then, without further ceremony, the Minister pronounced them to be man and wife. The "v." and "v. mo." (vetere modo), which occur in the margin of the same year, refer no doubt to marriages solemnized in accordance with the Book of Common Prayer—the old mode. Of Civil Marriages, or marriages contracted according to the Act passed by the "Little Parliament" in August, 1653, the St. Dunstan's registers make no mention whatever, differing in this respect very greatly from the Registers of St. Peter's within the City.

To the Walloons or "Strangers," Refugees from the Low Countries and France, who flocked to our City in such large numbers, there are many references; more, indeed, than I expected to find in the little parish outside the walls of Canterbury. A glance at the Index of Persons, which contains some sixteen thousand references, will show how numerous they were; but the Index will fail to give the reader a clue to all, as they frequently translated their names into their English equivalents. Anthony Cusshate (page 132) is described as "a dushman," that is, a Dutchman.

A few of the more uncommon Christian names found in these Registers deserve a brief notice. Of names given to females I may instance the following: Re Joyce, 2*; Joyce, 119; Idden, 5, 108, 113; Repentance, 16; Albane, 18; Pleasance, 19, 70; Pleasant, 142; Ury, 23, 24; Glodaine, 26; Ely, 29; Conciencia, 29; Benedixtua, Benedickea, Benedicte, 33, 93, 134; Pashant, or Patient. 33; Eliam, 42; Muriel, 49;

* The numbers refer to the page.

Julyan, 71, 72; Sylvester, 72, 129; Vose, 76; Hope, 78; Suretrust, 79; Rabedge, 80; Binder, 97; Jacobyne, 113; Isidora, 113; Isbrand, 124; Jocklain, or Jacqueline, 133.* Among the male Christian names are: Drake, 4, 5; Peregrine, 7; Tittyman, or Tiddeman, 38; Care, 41; Manly, 62, 103; Hope, 86; Repentance, 81; Strengwich, 139; to which may be added a few, the gender of which is uncertain: Everel, 96; Parole, 108; Minkey, 119; Druiah, 158.

Double Christian names first appear in the year 1700. It must be confessed that many of the combinations are not particularly happy, especially when placed in conjunction with the surnames to which they were prefixed. The first is William Tobias—William Tobias Greenaway, 36. Drayton Roberts, whose mother's name was Ely, had four daughters whom he named Elizabeth Joanna, Elizabeth Joanna, Ely Anne, and Ely Anne, 37, 40, 47, 138, 139, 142.† The next attempt was made by John Booker, who named his son Hunt John. Then followed Hester Sofire Swift, Gabriel Daniel Williams, Martha Sybilla Trigg, Garnet William Jarvis, Carder Elizabeth Horsley, Webbe Henry Lawrence, East John Lees, Harriet Alexander Jeudvine (fem.), Kilbee John Fittal, Hetty Betty Wiltshier, and Lowen Thomas, b. b. s. of Thomas Lowen and H. W. As time went on two Christian names were found insufficient, and so I find, among others, Dolly Maria Wiltshire Smith, Mary Ann Maria Rook, and Thomas Brian Robert Clement Taylor.

No doubt here as elsewhere many names were omitted from these Registers. These omissions were partly due to the pernicious habit that some incumbents had, of first making the entries in a note-book, with the intention of transferring them to the register when convenient (See p. 85 note); a custom which, I regret to say, is not unknown in Canterbury at this day. It is easy to see how such a note book might get mislaid or lost; while at the death of the incumbent it might be forgotten. The burials of the poor were frequently omitted, probably because they were poor. Of this I have given ample proofs in Our Parish Books and What They Tell Us (Vol. i. 77, 80), and I have no reason to believe matters were worse in Holy Cross parish than elsewhere. But if many were omitted altogether, some were entered twice, not always in the same register, but in that of another parish. Thus, in 1635, Reginald Henman and Susan Evans were married at Thanington, where the marriage was duly registered: it was also registered in St. Dunstan's, to which parish Susan Evans belonged (See p. 81 and note). In 1657 Thomas Eaton, of St. Dunstan's, was buried in Holy Cross churchyard, and in the burial register of that parish I find the fact duly recorded; it is also recorded here (See p. 127 and note). This system of "double entry" was not generally followed, but it is extremely probable that a careful comparison of the Canterbury parochial registers would afford other instances.‡ Better so than not at all.

In preparing these Registers for the Press I have taken only one liberty with the originals, that is to make the use of capitals uniform. The spelling, with all its peculiarities has been rigidly followed, and the contractions, even where I could see my way to expand them, have been retained. The Churchwardens' Accounts of this parish and the Registers have occupied most of my spare hours during a little more than two years. The two books may be said to contain the history of the parish from the year 1484 to the end of the last century—more than three hundred years. The Registers contain the stories of sorrow, shame, crime, suffering and death of eight generations. Some of those who played their small part in the parish life came into the world without even a name being recorded ; and some left it without our knowing who they were, and leaving us ignorant even of their sex. In studying the burials here entered, the reader will be struck with the ravages death made in certain families, their names occurring in the death roll with painful frequency. The grim doors of the parish gaol often opened to let out the dead, and the gallows on St. Thomas's Hill was frequently busy in sending unfortunates to the churchyard. Almost the last body delivered up by the gaol, was that of the unhappy French gentleman who hanged himself to the bars of his prison in a fit of insanity.*

* In 1626 Thomas Warner married Charity Rachel, and in 1644 John Lypn married Wealth Anne. It is probable that these two were baptised Jewesses.

† See Memorials in the Church, No. 9, infra.

‡ In 1604 William Shaxton, of St. Margaret's and Elizabeth Davies of St. Peter's were married at Thanington church, and the marriage was registered there. It was also registered at St. Peter's.

In conclusion I have to offer my warmest thanks to the Rev. J. Gurney Hoare, Vicar of St. Dunstan's, for the hearty manner in which he has given me every facility for carrying on my work. Nor must I omit to thank Mr. W. Cook, Sexton, whom I have often troubled during my frequent visits to the church. I have now only to record my own feelings of satisfaction at having completed this, the first of the Parochial Registers of Canterbury,† and to express a hope that my work will prove not to have been in vain.

MEMORIALS IN THE CHURCH.

The memorials in St. Dunstan's churchyard would fill a volume. They cannot be copied yet, as many have sunk below the surface of the ground. Those within the church, twenty-eight in all, I have copied, as far as I was able, and they are given below.

The three inscriptions copied by Mr. Bunce were these:—

* Before the first volume of these Registers was re-bound several leaves at the beginning and end had been detached and are lost. The Bishop of Dover, as Archdeacon of Canterbury, has most kindly granted me access to his Archives, and from them I have copied all baptismal entries from Oct. 10, 1560, to Aug. 20, 1574. I shall frequently have to acknowledge my indebtedness to these Records of the Archdeaconry of Canterbury, and such additional information as I may gather from them will be printed in italics.

† So in original.

‡ In the original "xxijth." The contractions st. nd. rd. did not come into use here until long after.

§ This is the first entry from the Register proper.

|| David Platt was inducted to the Vicarage of St. Dunstan's, July 22, 1597, and was succeeded in Oct., 1599, by John Cole. The entries, therefore, from the commencement up to 1597, must have been copied from the older book between 1597 and 1599. David Platt and the Churchwardens signed the first page of each leaf at the bottom; the second page they signed at the bottom and in the margin. I have thought it unnecessary to print their signatures every time they occur. Other signatures are invariably given.

* In the orig. "Lady" is written over, but whether the writer intended it to precede or succeed "Maddam" I cannot say.

† This entry was first made at the bottom of the page, the name being "John mase." It was smeared by a finger and then entered at the top of the next page, again as "mase," through which a pen was drawn and "morse" written below.

‡ An entry made below this has been erased.
 § The next entry (n.d.), which is very faint, is "Kathran ye daft.... of Samuell am." In the space denoted by the word "began" is written in a good hand. || So in orig.

† This is the last entry in the second volume of these Registers. About two thirds of the page and the whole of the next (the last in the book) are left blank. It is also the last burial entered by Stephen Hobday. Isaac Johnson, who succeeded him, opened a new volume—the third. See note ‡, p. 50, and note †, p. 97.
